UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION 2012 MEN'S NATIONAL TEAM MEDIA GUIDE

2011 U.S. SOCCER ATHLETES OF THE YEAR

253

For their excellence at the highest levels of the sport, U.S. Soccer named U.S. Men's National Team forward Clint Dempsey as the 2011 Male Athlete of the Year and U.S. Women's National Team forward Abby Wambach as the 2011 Female Athlete of the Year, U.S. MNT midfielder Brek Shea and U.S. WNT and U-23 WNT forward Sydney Leroux won the Young Male and Young Female Awards, respectively. The U.S. Soccer Athlete of the Year award is the highest honor awarded to soccer players in the United States

The Male Athlete of the Year honor is the second for Dempsey, who previously won the award in 2007. Dempsey becomes the fourth men's player to earn the honor at least two times, with Landon Donovan (2003, 2004, 2009, 2009, 2010), Kasey Keller (1997, 1999, 2005) and Marcelo Balboa (1992, 1994) also garnering the award on multiple occasions. Wambach won the award for the fifth time in her career and for the second straight year. Wambach matches Mia Hamm for earning the award five times, as Hamm garnered Female Athlete of the Year from 1994-98.

The U.S. Soccer Athlete of the Year awards have a longer history than any major award in American soccer - more than 20 years. They join the FIFA Players of the Year as the only two awards to honor both the top male and the top female in the sport.

As in years past, online votes registered at ussoccer.com counted for 50 percent of the total votes, while the other 50 percent was represented by votes compiled from members of the national media and U.S. Soccer representatives, including National Team coaches and the members of the U.S. Soccer Board of Directors. A player can only win the Young Athlete award once

U.S. SOCCER MALE ATHLETE OF THE YEAR: CLINT DEMPSEY

The USA's most dynamic and creative attacker also has become one of its most consistent in big games. Dempsey led U.S. scorers in the 2011 CONCACAF Gold Cup with three goals, including strikes in the quarterfinal against Jamaica and the game-winner in the semifinal against Panama. Earning Budweiser Man of the Match five times, Dempsey also delivered the first victory under new head coach Jürgen Klinsmann, scoring the lone goal during a 1-0 victory against Honduras. Already north of 80 appearances for the United States, Dempsey's 24 career goals are good for a fourth-place tie on the all-time U.S. goal scoring charts. Dempsey has proven equally lethal for Fulham, setting a club record for career goals in the English Premier League. He is now the highest-scoring American in Premier League history, passing Brian McBride's 36 goals in early December.

U.S. SOCCER FEMALE ATHLETE OF THE YEAR: ABBY WAMBACH

After missing several games early in the year due to nagging injuries, Wambach rebounded to have a year to remember. Wambach tallied a goal in the final four games of the 2011 FIFA Women's World Cup and kept alive her streak of leading the USA in scoring in every world championship in which she has competed. Wambach scored in the final group match against Sweden and then scored the most dramatic goal in Women's World Cup history against Brazil in the dying moments of overtime to send the game to penalty kicks. She won the Silver Ball as the second best player in the tournament and the Bronze Boot as the third-leading scorer. She also was named to the FIFA Women's World Cup All-Star Team. Her four goals in Germany gave her 13 in the Women's World Cup for her career, moving her past the legendary Michelle Akers into first on the all-time list.

U.S. SOCCER YOUNG MALE ATHLETE OF THE YEAR: BREK SHEA

The first player born in the 1990s to earn a cap for the U.S. Men's National Team, Shea had a breakout year on both an international and a professional level. With eight caps in 2011, he was one of three players to feature in all of Jurgen Klinsmann's games as head coach. The tireless midfielder started during a 1-1 draw against Mexico and contributed an assist on Robbie Rogers' equalizer. With FC Dallas, Shea scored 11 goals in his 31 appearances, with 30 of those starts, to help the team into playoff contention. Since making his MLS debut last year, Shea has quickly become a fan favorite, while his talent and work ethic have consistently impressed the critics. He was named to the MLS Best XI and nominated for MLS Most Valuable Player. He also spent a month in the offseason training with Arsenal and played for the reserve team in London, England.

U.S. SOCCER YOUNG FEMALE ATHLETE OF THE YEAR: SYDNEY LEROUX

The 5-foot-7 forward had an impact senior year at UCLA, scoring 16 goals with three assists while leading the team to a 16-1-4 record. Leroux played with both the full U.S. Women's National Team and the U.S. Under-23 Women's National Team in 2011, a year that saw her log significant training time with the senior side, as well as earn her first cap. The USA's alltime leading scorer in Under-20 Women's World Cup play traveled with the USA to the Four Nations Tournament last January in China, where she debuted against Sweden. She was one of two college players who attended the USA's final training camp before the 2011 FIFA Women's World Cup team was chosen and is one of just a handful of college players in the mix at the end of 2011 vying for spots on the team that will participate in January's CONCACAF qualifying tournament for the 2012 Olympics.

2011 BEST OF U.S. SOCCER AWARDS

After the U.S. Women's National Team's impressive run in the 2011 FIFA Women's World Cup, it was no surprise that the Women captured the majority of 2011's Best of U.S. Soccer votes. Fans chose the winners for the 10th consecutive year of the awards through an interactive voting module on U.S. Soccer's

The U.S. Women claimed a resounding seven of the 10 awards, with four of them - Best Assist, Best Goal, Best Performance: Team and Best Performance: Player - revolving around the dramatic quarterfinal win against Brazil in which a last-gasp U.S. goal sent the game into overtime and a penalty shootout.

Best Fan Tribute and Best Off the Field Moment were both comprised of entirely U.S. WNT-related choices. Several U.S. Women's fans, including U.S. Men's National Team forward C.J. Sapong, created songs inspired by their favorite players. The Best Off the Field Moment pitted some of the team's best Women's World Cup exploits against each other, such as post-World Cup media visits and Hope Solo on Dancing With the Stars.

Megan Rapinoe earned Best Assist for her cross that found Abby Wambach's head in the last seconds of overtime against Brazil. Wambach's 122nd-minute header was the latest goal in Women's World Cup history and was recognized as Best Goal with 63 percent of the votes. Rapinoe's assist garnered 80 percent of the votes in that category.

The USA's incredible win against Brazil earned the Women 82 percent of the votes - the largest margin of victory in any categroty - to win Best Performance: Team. After Rachel Buehler was sent off in the 65th minute, the U.S. rallied for more than 55 minutes with 10 players to come from behind and equalize in the final seconds of overtime stoppage time. The U.S. converted all five of its shots in the resulting penalty kick shootout, and Hope Solo saved a Brazil penalty for a U.S. win of 5-3.

Solo won Best Performance: Player for her crucial role against Brazil, a game in which she was also named Woman of the Match. The goalkeeper saved a Cristiane penalty in the second half of regular time before Marta converted the retake to equalize, and Solo also saved Daiane's penalty in the shootout. She garnered 39 percent of the votes.

Solo also claimed the Best Off the Field Moment with her run on Dancing With the Stars. Along with Maksim Chmerkovskiy, the U.S.'s No. 1 reached the semifinals on the ABC show.

Three Washington, D.C.-area high school students called the D.C. Squirrels won the Best Fan Tribute category with their "Teach Me How to Wambach" video. U.S. MNT and Sporting Kansas City player C.J. Sapong's rap serenade to Hope Solo came in second place with 25 percent of the votes.

U.S. Soccer fans voted the Women's military tribute as the Best Goal Celebration. The Women lined up to salute the troops in Germany after Heather O'Reilly scored against Colombia in World Cup play. Jermaine Jones also had a military celebration in contention, saluting the troops after scoring his first U.S. goal in the 2011 CONCACAF Gold Cup.

New York Red Bulls Academy alumnus Juan Agudelo was voted the Best Performance: Academy thanks to his 14 Men's National Team appearances and his six goals in 28 games for the Red Bulls' full team. Former Derby County Wolves player Josh Gatt earned 16 percent of the votes for helping Molde to its first ever Norwegian Premier League title.

Fans went to Official U.S. Soccer bars in 2011 because they were the best spots to follow the U.S. National Teams, and several of them also hosted exclusive bar events featuring the Men's and Women's players. O'Brien's Pub in San Diego, Calif., garnered 25 percent of the votes for the honor of Best Soccer Bar.

Best Twitter featured Men's and Women's players as well as journalists and official U.S. Soccer accounts. Megan Rapinoe (@mPinoe) took the top spot with a third of the votes, while teammate Ali Krieger (@alexbkrieger) came in close second.

The Best Studio 90 Feature went to Wild Turkey, in which Lori Lindsey and Megan Rapinoe demonstrated their signature handshake. Lindsey and Rapinoe also took second place with their Roomies 4 Life feature, taking a combined total of 83 percent of the votes.

Elected U.S. Soccer President in 2006 and re-elected in 2010, Sunil Gulati has more than 30 years of experience at all levels of soccer in the United States and has helped the sport rise to new heights.

The native of Allahabad, India, has played an important role in the development of U.S. Soccer since the early 1980's and has been intimately involved in the rise of the U.S. National Teams to prominence. Gulati continues his mission of improving soccer in the United States by taking an active approach on improving the structure and development of the sport in the country, while also reaching out to broaden the organization's relationships within the international community.

As a highly regarded instructor in the economics department at Columbia University, Gulati balances his academic work with numerous responsibilities within the sport worldwide.

He held the position of Major League Soccer's Deputy Commissioner from its launch until 1999 before becoming the President of Kraft Soccer Properties, a position he served in until 2011. He remains a special advisor to The Kraft Sports Group and the Kraft Family.

Before stepping into his role as President, he served as the U.S. Soccer's Executive Vice President from 2000 to 2006. He has held numerous other positions for U.S. Soccer, including Managing Director of National Teams, Chairman of the International Games Committee, Chairman of the Technical Committee and served on the bid committee for the 1994 FIFA World Cup.

He was also the original Managing Director of U.S. Soccer's Project 2010 and served as Chairman of both U.S. Cup '92 and U.S. Cup '93, two events that helped showcase U.S. Soccer's rise and prepare the federation for the upcoming 1994 FIFA World Cup. Additionally, Gulati served on the Board of Directors of FIFA Women's World Cup USA 1999 and 2003.

Currently, Gulati is a member of the Board for the U.S. Soccer Foundation, the CONCACAF Executive Committee and represents U.S. Soccer as Chairman of CONCACAF National Team Competitions Committee.

At the FIFA level, Gulati has served on the FIFA Confederations Cup Committee, the Strategic Committee, and currently serves on the FIFA Ticketing Subcommittee. In 2011, he was selected to be the FIFA Task Force Football 2014, a 22-member panel that reviews proposals to improve both the attractiveness of football and match control in elite competitions. He was also named to the newly formed Independent Governance Committee, a group which will make recommendations for the governance changes within the FIFA structure.

Gulati graduated Magna Cum Laude from Bucknell University and earned his M.A. and M. Phil. in Economics at Columbia University. He served on the Columbia Economics Faculty from 1986 to 1990 before joining the World Bank through its Young Professionals Program in 1991 and serving as a country economist for the currently serves on the FIFA Ticketing Subcommittee. In 2011, he was selected to be the FIFA Task Force emerging country of Moldova.

Gulati, 52 and his wife, Marcela, have one son, Emilio, and one daughter, Sofia. They live in New York City.

Dan Flynn learned about winning soccer championships as a product of the famed St. Louis, Mo., soccer scene, eventually becoming a collegiate standout at St. Louis University and helping to guide the Billikens to a 1973 NCAA soccer championship.

As U.S. Soccer's CEO / Secretary General since June 15, 2000, Flynn has taken his lessons learned from the field and applied them administratively at the sport's highest level to help spur the United States Soccer Federation's growth into one of the most respected national governing bodies in the country. Through his tireless efforts, Flynn has been responsible for instilling the groundwork for U.S. Soccer's success in the new millennium.

In his more than 11 years as the organization's CEO, Flynn has overhauled U.S. Soccer's business framework, leading to among other things the development and construction of U.S. Soccer's National Training Center at The Home Depot Center in Carson, Calif., which opened in June 2003. With a renewed focus on National Team and player development, as well as facility development, more and more opportunities are arising for youth players of all ages, highlighted by the addition of a number of Youth National Team programs, an increase to 40 players at the U-17 Men's National Team's Residency Program in Bradenton, Fla., and the creation of the Development Academy Program.

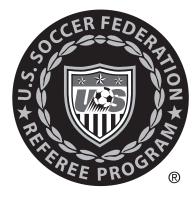

During the summer of 2003 Flynn served as the Chief Executive Officer of the FIFA Women's World Cup USA 2003, putting his strong business background to work in preparing the framework to help the Local Organizing Committee successfully stage the tournament. With attendance peaking above 350,000 despite just four months to organize the event, the tournament was the most financially profitable Women's World Cup ever.

Flynn's career path has included both sports marketing and management positions at Anheuser-Busch, as well as more than 17 years of experience within the sport of soccer at World Cup 1994, the U.S. Soccer Federation and the U.S. Soccer Foundation.

For two years, the 57-year-old Flynn served as Executive Director of the U.S. Soccer Foundation, where he was responsible for the organization's overall management. Prior to joining the Foundation, he played key roles at both World Cup 1994, serving as the Venue Director in Chicago, and at U.S. Soccer, where from 1994 to 1998 he managed the governing body's day-to-day operations at the Federation headquarters in Chicago.

Flynn was a part of the amazing growth of Anheuser-Busch, where he served in numerous capacities both domestically and internationally. He was also directly involved in Anheuser-Busch's sponsorship of the 1986 World Cup in Mexico, which served as the springboard for their future involvement in the sport on a long-term basis.

A graduate from St. Louis University, Flynn was a star defender at SLU from 1973 to 1977, helping the Billikens to an NCAA championship in 1973 and to a runner-up finish in 1974. Born Jan. 20, 1955, in St. Louis, Mo., he is married to Cathy and the couple has three daughters (Lauren, Anneliese and Erin).

U.S. SOCCER REFEREE DEPARTMENT

The U.S. Soccer Federation's referee membership ranks among the largest of all FIFA nations with over 140,000 registered officials, including assessors, assignors and instructors. Officials are registered with U.S. Soccer and work sanctioned games at all levels of the sport including youth, adult, professional and international matches.

In addition to assignments at the FIFA and the CONCACAF levels, a major role of the U.S. Soccer Referee Department is to train and assign referees for the professional game in the United States. This includes Major League Soccer, Women's Professional Soccer, North American Soccer League and USL Pro. Last year, referees worked over 300 MLS matches and over 50 WPS matches.

Significant organizational changes were initiated in late 2010 that saw the U.S. Soccer Referee Department create separate offices to service the amateur and professional game. The amateur office remains located at Soccer House in Chicago and the new professional office is based in New York at MLS headquarters. The location of the professional office allows an improved focus on the referee assignments, evaluation and training reserved for professional and international competitions.

REFEREE DEVELOPMENT

In 2011 the U.S. Soccer Referee Department will have a renewed focus on instruction and training for introductory level referees. A four-person panel of referee experts, including Soccer Hall of Fame referee Alfred Kleinaitis, will be managed by a newly created position, the Manager of Referee Education Resources. The other four members of the panel are Nate Clement, Gregory Barkey and Michael Kennedy who each have extensive experience as referees and instructors. This advisory panel will collaborate with U.S. Soccer's state associations and membership to develop new educational strategies with an emphasis on finding ways to improve referee education through new media and online learning.

PROFESSIONAL REFEREES

After hiring full time referees for the first time in 2007, U.S. Soccer has continued its commitment to the professional level by creating a new office to focus on the management of elite referees for the professional game. Herb Silva managed the professional referees throughout the 2011 season as the Director of Professional Referees and Sandra Serafini was hired as the Professional Women's Referee Coordinator to manage the development and training of professional and international female officials.

The Professional Referee Department also adopted radical changes in the management of officials based on best practices from around the world. The department created a Command Center to evaluate all of the MLS games in real time, implemented referee teams to increase the number of assignments among highly compatible officials, shifted from an assessment based evaluation process to a coaching based process and developed seven rookie referees, who worked almost 20% of all MLS games last season. At the same time, the Professional Referee Department increased its commitment to new technologies, including behavioral evaluation, Polar heart rate monitoring and comprehensive data analysis.

U.S. SOCCER'S COACHING DEPARTMENT AND NATIONAL COACHING SCHOOLS

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION 2012 MEN'S NATIONAL TEAM MEDIA GUIDE

- U.S. Soccer's Coaching Department was established in the early 1970s by famed West German teacher and coach Dettmar Cramer. It provides for one curriculum and progresses to five levels of certification. Each level of U.S. Soccer's National Coaching Programs are designed to meet needs of coaches ranging from the parent coach, who is usually inexperienced in soccer, to the former professional player who desires to coach in amateur, professional and international competitions.
- U.S. Soccer's National Coaching Schools continue to provide quality education for coaches in this country, and currently offers seven levels of certification: (A, B, C, D, E, Youth, and GK). We are committed to providing soccer coaches with up-to-date theoretical and practical knowledge so coaches can develop to their full potential. The diagram below shows the current U.S. Soccer National License progression.

The U.S. Soccer National Coaching Schools provide courses in which coaches can earn nationally certified credentials and take advantage of the opportunities and recognition inherent in the attainment of various levels of coaching expertise, a proven curriculum which improves a coach's knowledge of the game and valuable information on current coaching trends and international developments in the game.

Candidates that attend the national coaching schools (for A, B and C licenses) go through a rigorous nineday schedule of field and classroom sessions, concluding with extensive testing on theoretical and practical applications of the game. The course is conducted in a residential environment that immerses coaches in the culture of soccer and emphasizes field instruction in the areas of technique, tactics and fitness. The course also includes instruction in coaching methodology, team management and sport psychology.

- U.S. Soccer has licensed more than 20,000 coaches, in the 40 years since U.S. Soccer's National Coaching Schools were first founded and more than 2,500 coaches have earned the premier "A" license. Additionally, U.S. Soccer's coaching organization, CoachesNet, currently features 4,000 members.
- U.S. Soccer also offers D, E, Youth Modules and Adult Licenses, levels which are available through each state youth association and the adult license offered by the state adult associations. While the state associations are responsible for the execution of these courses, the curriculum is developed and overseen by U.S. Soccer's Coaching Education Department, For more information on the courses, downloadable materials are available at ussoccer.com.

CONTINUING EDUCATION PROGRAM

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION 2012 MEN'S NATIONAL TEAM MEDIA GUIDE

The purpose of the U.S. Soccer Continuing Education Program (CEP) is to provide meaningful educational opportunities for coaches wishing to maintain their "A" License. It is important that coaches stay current with the latest national and international developments involving the growth of the game.

Educational activities or events that are directed, sponsored or co-administrated by U.S. Soccer will be certified as Continuing Education events and CE credits awarded. It is U.S. Soccer policy that all coaches currently holding an "A" License must accumulate eight- (8) CE credits within every four-year cycle in order to maintain the status of their "A" License.

U.S. Soccer recognizes or conducts the following activities or events where CE credits can be obtained. Credit amounts will vary pending duration and/or level of programming.

- Attendance at a regional coaching or player development workshop or in-service program (2-4 credits)
- Attendance at a U.S. Soccer coaching symposium (2-4 credits)
- Attendance as an Audit at a U.S. Soccer National Coaching School "A" License course (8 credits)
- Successful completion of the U.S. Soccer Goalkeeping License course (8 credits)
- Successful completion of the U.S. Soccer National Youth License Course, effective as of January 2007 (8 credits)
- Successfully completing the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) Premier Course (8 credits)
- Attendance at a U.S. Soccer international workshop (8 credits)

U.S. Soccer may conduct other activity or events that will provide additional opportunities to earn CE credits. These activities are publicized on ussoccer.com and are open to coaches of all levels.

CHICAGO: HOME TO U.S. SOCCER HOUSE

In the tradition of many world soccer federations and the FIFA House in Zurich, the U.S. Soccer Federation took up residence in two refurbished mansions in Chicago's Prairie Avenue Historical District more than 18 years ago. Since dubbed the U.S. Soccer House, the corner of 18th Street and Prairie Avenue now serves as the American home of the world's most popular sport.

Formerly located in Colorado Springs, Colo., U.S. Soccer moved their operational base into the Kimball house at 1801 South Prairie Avenue and the Coleman-Ames house at 1811 South Prairie Avenue in December of 1991.

Dating back to 1873, Soccer House was built by William Wallace Kimball, founder of Kimball pianos and organs; Joseph Coleman, president of a hardware manufacturing firm; and Coleman's wife, Leonora, who served on the board of the Women's Christian Association in 1886.

There was a time when Prairie Avenue, from 16th to 22nd streets, was the "Fifth Avenue" of the Midwest. The area is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the men and women who helped shape the industrialization of the Midwest and in 1979 it was designated an historical district.

Nearly 20 millionaires once resided within Soccer House's six-block area. Families who were influential in the industrialization of the Midwest and called South Prairie Avenue home included: George Pullman (railroad cars), John J. Glessner (farming implements), Marshall Field (retailer), Samuel Allerton (banker) and Philip Armour (meat packing).

Kimball House

Coleman-Ames House

Prairie Avenue Historical District

Construction of Prairie Avenue began after the Great Chicago Fire of 1871 when Pullman became the first millionaire to move to the area, building the grandest of Prairie Avenue mansions in 1873. Friends of Pullman followed his lead and also built extravagant homes on Prairie Avenue. The

Marshall Field House was the first in the neighborhood to be electrically lit.

The Kimball House, built of Bedford limestone and topped with a slate roof. has an exterior consisting of numerous large and small turrets, gables, balconies and ornamental iron-railed galleries. The interior of Kimball House is as extravagant as its exterior, with wood abundant throughout. The ceilings are beamed in oak and mahogany, and fireplaces made of onyx warm the parlor.

Neighboring the Kimball House to the south is the Coleman-Ames House built in 1886. Numerous families have resided in this mansion. Coleman, the original owner, lived in the home until 1888, when he sold the mansion to Massachusetts coal merchant Miner T. Ames. Ames resided in the house for just two years before he died in 1890. The Coleman-Ames house is home to U.S. Soccer's coaching, refereeing, accounting and technology departments, as well as the set of Studio 90.

It was not until the late 1940s that a connecting link between the Kimball and Coleman coach houses was erected, designed to give the courtyard a unified appearance.

With its historic appearance, Soccer House has been Chicago's home to Hollywood, serving as a location shoot for a number of motion pictures, including extended use for the filming of Richard Gere's "Primal Fear."

U.S. SOCCER NATIONAL TRAINING CENTER

The Home Depot Center 18400 Avalon Blvd. Carson, Calif. 90746 310-630-2280 (phone) 310-630-2270 (fax)

U.S. Soccer's National Training Center at The Home Depot Center in Carson, Calif., stands as one of the great achievements in the organization's almost 100-year history. What started as a vision in 1999 became a reality with its construction in 2003, and is now widely-hailed as the future of the sport in the United States.

The complex is a first-class facility that shows the integration of all the U.S. National Team programs, from U-14 developmental camps straight through to the full men's and women's teams playing in the main stadium.

The Home Depot Center officially opened for U.S. Soccer on June 6, 2003, as the U.S. Under-17 Men's National Team arrived to begin training. The first game at The HDC was played in the stadium one day later on June 7, 2003, as the LA Galaxy topped the Colorado Rapids 2-0 in Major League Soccer action.

Located on the campus of California State University, Dominguez Hills, the National Training Center includes four grass soccer fields, two FieldTurf soccer fields and a general training area. The complex also includes three additional practice fields for Chivas USA, the Galaxy and the college, as well as all the necessary team support facilities, including locker rooms, a training room, a weight room and office space for staff. U.S. Soccer has approximately a dozen full-time staff working out of The National Training Center.

In a very short time. The Home Depot Center established itself as the center of the soccer world in the United States, and was the main reason the United States was able to serve as an emergency host for the 2003 FIFA Women's World Cup. The facility hosted early round games, as well as the third-place match and the final on short notice after the tournament was moved from China to the United States.

The stadium has also hosted numerous international and professional tournaments, including the CONCACAF Gold Cup, Champions League, SuperLiga and InterLiga, while also bringing some of the largest clubs in the

U.S. SOCCER TIMELINE

Early 1800s: As was the case in England, many 1898: A depression resulting from the financial American schools and colleges played forms of football, but under rules that varied from place to place.

1862: The Oneida Football Club, made up of Boston prep school students, was organized by Gerritt Smith Miller. The game the Oneidas played was more like rugby than like soccer, but they were the first American team playing any type of football to be organized on a continuing basis, rather than iust for the day.

1866: The first game in America using the association football rules standardized three years before in London was played on Oct. 11 in Waukesha, Wis. A team of Carroll College students beat a team of local residents.

1869: A week after they played what has been called the first American football game, teams from Princeton and Rutgers met on Nov. 13 in Princeton, N.J., in a game using association football rules, the first intercollegiate soccer game in America.

1876: Most of the football-playing colleges abandoned soccer in favor of rugby. However, within a few years soccer had begun to take hold in immigrant communities in various American locations such as Fall River, Mass.; Kearny, N.J., Open Cup). and St. Louis.

1883: The first soccer league in America, the Western Football Association, was organized in St. Louis.

1884: The American Football Association, only the second national soccer association outside of the British Isles, but one that was really more regional than national, was organized in Newark, N.J.

1885: The first American Football Association Cup was won by ONT of Kearny, N.J., and a team representing the United States played one from Canada in Kearny on Nov. 28 in the first "international" game in America.

1894: The first attempt to start a pro soccer league in the United States, the American League of Professional Football Clubs, lasted for only three weeks in October. However, a longer-lasting league. the National Association Foot Ball League, began the following spring.

panic of 1893 caused the suspension of both the American Football Association and the nation's leading league, the National Association Foot Ball League of New Jersey.

1904: A Canadian team won the soccer competition at the Olympic Games in St. Louis.

1905: A 17-game North American tour by the Pilgrims, an English amateur team, helped to revive soccer in the United States. St. Leo's won the first of its 10 consecutive St. Louis Major League titles.

1906: West Hudson of Harrison, N.J., won the first championship of the revived AFA Cup. A year later, it added the first championship of the revived National Association Foot Ball League.

1913: The United States Football Association was founded at an April 5 meeting in New York. FIFA, which had been founded in 1904, granted it provisional membership later in the year and full membership in 1914.

1914: The first National Challenge Cup tournament, the championship of the new USFA, was won by the Brooklyn Field Club (the tournament's name was later changed to the U.S.

FIRST TEAM: The very first U.S. Men's National Team squad prepares to take the field in their first match, a 3-2 victory over Sweden in Stockholm on Aug. 20, 1916.

1916: The first national team organized by the USFA, named the All-American Football Club, played six games in a tour of Sweden and Norway. Thomas Swords of Fall River captained the side, and Charles Spalding scored the first goal ever for the U.S. national team against Sweden.

1919: Bethlehem Steel, after sweeping the National Challenge Cup, the AFA Cup and the National Association Foot Ball League, became the first American club to make a European tour when it played 14 games in Sweden and Denmark.

1930: The 1930 U.S. World Cup Team advanced into the semifinals and finished third.

1920: The National Challenge Cup was won for the first time by a team from west of the Alleghenies, Ben Millers of St. Louis.

1921: The original American Soccer League, largely a merger of the National Association Foot Ball League in the Middle Atlantic states and the Southern New England Soccer League, began play. In its first season, it included three teams from Massachusetts, two from New York, two from New Jersey and one from Pennsylvania.

'34 IN ITALY: The U.S. lost their only match of the 1934 World Cup, losing 7-1 to host Italy.

1924: The Fall River Marksmen became the first team to win the American Soccer League and National Challenge Cup titles in the same year.

1925: Archie Stark of Bethlehem Steel scored 67 goals in the 44-game ASL season, setting an American first-division record that still stands.

1926: A game between Austrian first-division team Hakoah and a New York all-star team drew a crowd of 46,000 to the Polo Grounds in New York. Bethlehem Steel won the last of its five National Challenge Cup titles.

1928: The Soccer War, a year-long battle between the ASL and the USFA, began with ASL demands to take over the leading role in administering the sport.

1930: The United States was one of 13 nations to compete in the first World Cup in Uruguay, upsetting Belgium and Paraguay before being eliminated by Argentina in the semifinals. Bert Patenaude of Fall River scored the first World Cup hat trick. Later in the year, the Fall River Marksmen. again winners of the ASL and National Challenge Cup titles, made a six-game tour of Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Austria.

1932: Disputes over the definition of an amateur and the costs of long travel distance from Europe caused the elimination of soccer from the program at the Los Angeles Olympic Games.

1933: Two years after the demise of the original American Soccer League, a new ASL, with a scaledback budget, began play.

1934: Buff Donelli, later a famous American football coach, scored four goals in a World Cup qualifying victory against Mexico. The U.S. Men took part in their second consecutive World Cup, going winless in Italy.

1938: The USFA, citing the gathering threat of war in Europe, declined to send a team to the World Cup

1941: The Kearny Scots won their fifth consecutive American Soccer League championship. The National Soccer Coaches Association was formed by 10 coaches at a meeting in New York.

1944: Billy Gonsalves, playing for Brooklyn Hispano, won the last of his remarkable eight U.S. Open Cup championships.

1945: The U.S. Football Association changed its name to U.S. Soccer Football Association.

COMING UP ROSES: The U.S. Women's National Team won the 1999 FIFA Women's World Cup, the most successful women's sporting event ever, in a penalty shootout against China.

1996: The U.S. Women won the first women's soccer gold medal at the 1996 Atlanta Olympics. defeating China 2-1 in the championship game. The U.S. posted a 21-1-2 overall record and won the Brazil Cup and U.S. Women's Cup '96. The U.S. Men's Olympic Team narrowly missed advancing to resignation of head coach Steve Sampson, who was the quarterfinals with a 1-1-1 record.

Major League Soccer was launched, providing the United States with its first Division I outdoor pro league since the North American Soccer League ceased operations in 1985. MLS averaged more than 17,000 fans per game. The A-League and USISL merged to form a larger and stronger Division II outdoor league.

FIFA awarded the 1999 Women's World Cup to the United States and U.S. Soccer pledged it would be the biggest and most successful women's sporting a 0-0 tie through regulation and overtime and then event ever.

1997: The U.S. Men qualified for a third straight World Cup, completing a 16-game qualifying run with just two losses and advancing with a game to spare. The U.S. Women continued their impressive play by winning their fourth straight Nike U.S Cup.

The FIFA Women's World Cup Organizing Committee had awarded the '99 games to seven U.S. locations: Boston; Chicago; Los Angeles; New York/New Jersey; Portland, Ore.; San Francisco Bay Area; and Washington, D.C.

1998: A disappointing World Cup finished with the U.S. in last place after two difficult matches against Germany and Yugoslavia, and a heartbreaking loss to Iran. Brian McBride scored the team's only World Cup goal. The tournament concluded with the eventually replaced on Oct. 27. by Bruce Arena.

The women's team continued their impressive play, losing just twice in 1998 while playing in front of record crowds all across the country. Dr. Bob Contiguglia took over as U.S. Soccer's new president, replacing Alan I. Rothenberg, who had reached the eight-year term limit.

1999: In front of more than 90,000 fans at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., the U.S. women won the 1999 FIFA World Cup by playing China to defeating them 5-4 in penalty kicks. Soccer hysteria spread through America as the women appeared on every top news program, at the White House and on the cover of Time, Newsweek, People and Sports Illustrated, U.S. Women's National Team head coach Tony DiCicco resigned in November as the winningest coach in U.S. Soccer history with a record of 103-8-8.

In Bruce Arena's first full year at the helm of the U.S. Men, the team recorded triumphs against Germany (twice), Argentina, Chile and earned third place at the 1999 FIFA Confederations Cup in Mexico. The U-23 Men beat Canada for the bronze medal at the 1999 Pan American Games in Winnipeg, Canada, while the U-18 Women captured the gold. The U-20 Men advanced to the second round of the 1999 FIFA World Youth Championship in April, with their only two losses coming to eventual finalists Spain and Japan. Taylor Twellman scored four goals and earned the Bronze Boot to become the first American male in the modern era to earn a FIFA scoring award. In November, the U-17 Men extended a record unbeaten streak to 24 games, advancing to the semifinals of the World Championship before losing in penalty kicks to Australia. Landon Donovan and DaMarcus Beasley earned the Gold and Silver Balls as the tournament's top two MVPs.

2000: Bruce Arena's squad continued to advance toward its ultimate goal of qualifying for the 2002 World Cup. The team secured 10 out of a possible 12 points - all shutouts - to win its semifinal qualifying group.

The U.S. Women maintained the momentum from their historic Women's World Cup title with 41 matches in 2000, posting a 26-6-9 record. The U.S. won six tournament titles in 2000, but had to settle for a silver medal at the 2000 Summer Olympics, losing in overtime to archrival Norway in the gold medal match.

SAVED: Brad Friedel saved a penalty kick by Korea Republic as the U.S. preserved a 1-1 draw in their second group game in 2002.

The U.S. Men and Women put on an impressive display for the world at the Sydney Games as the only nation to have both its teams advance to the semifinals. The men were the surprise team of the tournament, winning their group and advancing to the semis before grabbing fourth place, the highest Olympic finish for the U.S.

2001: The U.S. Men qualified for a fourth straight World Cup, boosted by four wins and a draw to open the final round of CONCACAF qualifying. For the first time, the U.S. Men clinched a spot in the World Cup at a home qualifier, topping Jamaica 2-1 behind two goals from Joe-Max Moore in front of 40.483 fans at the last soccer match played at Foxboro Stadium.

The U.S. Women played only 10 international matches as the Women's United Soccer Association began play, with the Bay Area CyberRays winning the inaugural Founders Cup. Mia Hamm was named the first FIFA Women's World Player of the Year.

The Under-17 Men advanced to a ninth consecutive FIFA U-17 World Cup, but were drawn into the Group of Death in Trinidad & Tobago with Japan, Nigeria and France, and were eliminated in the first round. The U.S. Under-20 Men qualified for their third straight FIFA World Youth Championship, where the team finished second in their group in Argentina and were eliminated in the second round by Egypt.

The National Professional Soccer League, in existence since 1984-95, merged with the WISL and was renamed as the Major Indoor Soccer

2002: The U.S. Men advanced to the quarterfinals at the 2002 World Cup in Korea/Japan, the team's best World Cup showing since 1930. The U.S. shocked the world with a stunning 3-2 opening game upset of Portugal before eventually finishing in second place in Group D. The U.S. then posted their first victory in the World Cup knockout stage, blanking CONCACAF rival Mexico 2-0 in the Round of 16. The World Cup run ended in the quarterfinals with a 1-0 loss to Germany. Claudio Revna was named to the All-Tournament Team, while Landon Donovan earned honorable mention. The men began 2002 by winning the CONCACAF Gold Cup in January with a convincing 2-0 victory against Costa Rica for the first Gold Cup title for the U.S. since 1991.

The U.S. Women's qualified for their fourth consecutive FIFA Women's World Cup after capturing the 2002 CONCACAF Gold Cup with a 2-1 overtime victory against Canada at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif. The U.S. Under-19 Women topped the host Canadians 1-0 in overtime to win the inaugural FIFA U-19 Women's World Championship. Kelly Wilson won the Bronze Ball as the tournament's third MVP and the Silver Boot, while captain Lindsay Tarpley 🗭 earned the Bronze Boot.

2004, finished in third place at the CONCACAF Gold Cup with a 3-2 come-from-behind win against Costa Rica. The Men's Under-17 and Under-20 squads finished their respective World Columbus, Ohio. The men also brought home the Championships with fifth place finishes after bowing out with quarterfinal losses to Brazil and Argentina, respectively.

2004: The U.S. Women won every tournament entered, culminating with the 2004 Olympics. Other tournament titles included the Algarye Cup. the Four Nations Tournament and the CONCACAF Regional Olympic qualifying tournament, as the team set a record with 28 victories on the year.

Under head coach Bruce Arena, the U.S. Men qualified for the final round of World Cup Qualifying for the CONCACAF region. The men finished the year with an 8-1-6 record, losing only to the Netherlands away and going a record 13-games undefeated.

the first time since 1976, losing 4-0 to Mexico in Guadalajara after winning their only group match against the second-place Mexicans in the singleelimination qualifier. The Under-19 Women finished third at the FIFA U-19 Women's World CONCACAF Championship and qualified for the 2004 FIFA Futsal World Championship, where the team had a strong showing with a seventh-place

2005: Manager Bruce Arena led the U.S. Men to The U.S. Men, preparing for World Cup qualifying in a first place finish in CONCACAF World Cup qualifying for the first time in 71 years, earning a berth at the 2006 FIFA World Cup Finals in Germany with a 2-0 win against Mexico in 2005 CONCACAF Gold Cup, beating Panama 3-1 in penalty kicks after a scoreless draw. The team finished the year with a record 13 wins and .750 winning percentage.

> The U.S. Women began a new era, starting off the year with a new coach. Greg Ryan, and a third consecutive Algarve Cup title, their fourth overall. They ended the year undefeated and without allowing a single goal.

HOME DEPOT DRAW: U.S. WNT legends Michelle Akers and Carin Gabarra took part in the FIFA Women's World Cup USA 2003 Final Draw at The Home Depot Center in Carson, Calif.

The Under-20 Men swept through CONCACAF Qualifying, earning a berth to the FIFA Youth World Championship, where they finished 11th, bowing out to Italy in the Round of 16. The Under-17 Men also had a strong 2005, qualifying for the 2005 FIFA U-17 World Championship and finishing fifth overall after a loss to Holland in the second round.

2006: A disappointing World Cup in Germany for the United States, as the team failed to advance out of the first round despite a gallant, nine-man 1-1 draw with eventual World Cup champions Italy. After eight years in charge, Bruce Arena was replaced at the helm of the U.S. MNT by Bob Bradley on an interim basis.

Later in the summer, the U.S. Under-20 Women's National Team finished fourth in Russia. The disappointing finish marked the first time a U.S. Women's National Team had finished outside the top three in a FIFA or CONCACAF World Championship event.

The U.S. Women, however, continued their incredible run under Greg Ryan, winning three of the four tournaments they entered. The year concluded with another Women's Gold Cup crown and a berth in the 2007 FIFA Women's World Cup in China.

2007: Bob Bradley became the first Men's coach to win his first three games in charge and was hired full-time to guide the USA through 2010. In the summer of 2007, the MNT won its second consecutive Gold Cup, and fourth total title, by defeating Mexico 2-1 in front of a packed house at Soldier Field in Chicago. With the victory, the MNT gained entry into the 2009 Confederations Cup. The Men also travelled to Venezuela to compete in Copa America for the third time.

After qualifying for their respective World Cups to continue impressive streaks, the U-17 Men and U-20 Men took on the world during the summer in back-to-back tournaments. The U-20 team performed admirably in Canada, and reached the quarterfinals after defeats of Poland, Brazil and Uruguay. The U-17 team, meanwhile, did well to qualify from a tough group in South Korea, before being eliminated by Germany in the Round of 16.

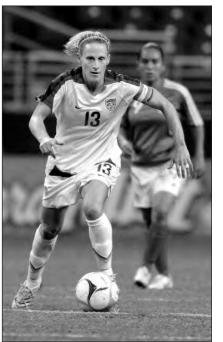

The U.S. Women maintained a two-plus year undefeated run, looking to take the streak into the FIFA Women's World Cup. Drawn into the toughest group in Women's World Cup history, the U.S. advanced in first place after three difficult games against Korea DPR, Sweden and Nigeria. The U.S. rolled into the semifinals, but was upended by a quality Brazil side. Eventually, the WNT took third place for the second consecutive World Cup with a convincing win against Norway. Former Swedish National Team player and captain Pia Sundhage 2008: Led by Pia Sundhage, the U.S. Women had one of its best years ever, losing only one game. which ironically came in the opening match of the 2008 Beijing Olympics, a tournament the U.S. would eventually win to take home their third gold medal. Overall, the U.S. won all six tournaments it entered to finish with a 33-1-2 record, giving them the most wins and best winning percentage ever in a calendar year (.944).

The U.S. Men was successful in their own right, starting off on the right foot in 2010 FIFA World Cup qualifying with a 9-0 aggregate against Barbados in the second round. The U.S. opened the semifinal round with 1-0 victories in Guatemala and Cuba. Coming back to the U.S., home victories against T&T and Cuba clinched advancement with two games to play.

The U-23 Men joined the U.S. Women by qualifying for the 2008 Olympics in March, but just missed out on the second round once arriving in Beijing. Despite a 1-0 victory against Japan and a 2-2 draw with the Netherlands, the U.S. fell 2-1 against eventual silver medalist Nigeria. On the youth side, the U-17 and U-20 Women's National Teams both made the championship match of their respective FIFA World Cups. In New Zealand, the U-17s went on an impressive run to the final before finally succumbing to Korea DPR in the final, but in Chile their older counterparts were take the U-17/18 title. able to exact revenge with a 2-1 victory to bring the World Cup trophy back to the United States for 2009: The U.S. Men opened 2009 focused on the first time since 2002.

They finished atop the CONCACAF table with a tie against Costa Rica in Washington, D.C., on the last day of qualifying.

During the summer, the U.S. Men traveled to South Africa to compete in the 2009 FIFA Confederations Cup. The U.S. MNT was drawn into a group with Italy, Brazil and Egypt, and advanced into the semifinals by virtue of a 3-0 dismantling of Egypt in the final game. They kept the nation captivated by beating Spain, the No.1-ranked team in the world in the semifinals before falling 3-2 to Brazil in the final. Tim Howard was awarded the Golden Glove and Clint Dempsey given the Bronze Ball.

Pia Sundhage's women's team had a more relaxed year after their gold medal winning exploits in 2008, and wrapped up the year with a 7-0-1 that included falling in penalties to Sweden in the Algarve Cup final.

PORTU-GOALS: The U.S. won the 2010 Algarve Cup with a 3-2 win against Germany in the final.

2010: The year's most memorable moment came in the U.S. Men's third group game at the 2010 World Cup in South Africa as Landon Donovan scored a last-minute goal for the U.S. to clinch advancement and first place in a group for the first time in 80 years. Following a 1-1 tie with England, a 2-2 tie with Slovenia and a 1-0 win against Algeria, the U.S. was eliminated in the Round of 16 losing to Ghana 2-1. Clint Dempsey became the second U.S. player to score in multiple World Cups. and Landon Donovan had three total goals to become the third to score in multiple World Cups and the all-time World Cup goal leader for the U.S.

After a surprising loss to Mexico in the semifinals of CONCACAF qualifying, the U.S. Women topped Italy 2-0 in a two-game qualifying playoff to earn a spot in the 2011 FIFA Women's World Cup. The U.S. won its seventh Algarve Cup with the first of two victories against 2011 hosts Germany.

The U.S. Under-20 Women lost in penalty kicks to Nigeria in the quarterfinals of the 2010 FIFA U-20 World Cup, while the U-17 Women became the first U.S. Women's team to fail to qualify for a FIFA World Cup event after not advancing out of the CONACACAF qualifying tournament.

No Division II league met U.S. Soccer's sanctioning standards, so the Federation administered a league called USSF D-2 for one year.

TIES THAT BIND: Michael Bradley celebrates scoring the game-tying goal against Slovenia in the 2010 FIFA World Cup.

2011: The U.S. Women were on center stage during the 2011 Women's World Cup in Germany. Their dramatic run in the Women's World Cup was highlighted by an electric, come-from-behind victory in the quarterfinals against Brazil, in which Abby Wambach scored the latest goal (six minutes into stoppage time) ever in a World Cup match. The U.S., however, would lose out in penalties to a spirited Japanese side in the final after playing to a 2-2 draw through 120 minutes.

During the summer of 2011 at the CONCACAF Gold Cup, the U.S. advanced to its third consecutive final, scoring two early goals before falling 4-2 to Mexico. The continental tournament would prove to be Bob Bradley's last involvement as head coach of the U.S., with former Germany international and FIFA World Cup winner Jurgen Klinsmann taking the helm of the U.S. Men in August. He earned his first final, scoring two early goals before falling 4-2 to win in Miami against Honduras thanks to a Clint Dempsey strike and later led the team to a 3-2 victory against Slovenia in its last game of the year.

The U-17 and U-20 Men's National Teams both entered another cycle of their respective FIFA World Cups. The U-17 Men reached the knockout round for the seventh time but lost to Germany in the Round of 16. After winning their qualifying group with two shutout victories, the U-20s graduated to the guarterfinals but fell to Guatemala and did not reach the World Cup for the first time since 1995.

FIFA - SOCCER'S WORLD GOVERNING BODY

Founded in 1904 to provide unity among national soccer associations, the Federation Internationale de Football Association (FIFA) boasts 208 members, rivaling that of the United Nations, and is arguably the most prestigious sports organization in the world.

As organizers of the biggest event in the world, the FIFA World Cup, 204 countries entered the two-year qualifying process to earn one of 31 spots alongside host South Africa at the 2010 FIFA World Cup.

FIFA was established on May 21, 1904, by seven national associations - Belgium, Denmark, France, Netherlands, Spain, Sweden and Switzerland - to "promote the game of Association Football (as opposed to rugby or American football), to foster friendly relations among National Associations, Confederations, and their officials and players, by promoting the organization of football matches at all levels, and to control every type of association football by taking steps as shall be deemed necessary or advisable."

FIFA's birth was a result of the growing number of international games shortly after the dawn of the 20th century. Soccer leaders in Europe felt that such expanded competition required a governing body, and under the leadership of Robert Guerin, a French journalist, the seven founding members gathered in Paris to shape the future of the sport, Guerin, FIFA's first president, presided over the organization from 1904 to 1906. Seven other men have also served as FIFA president, including Jules Rimet for 33 years from 1921 to 1954.

Currently Switzerland's Joseph (Sepp) Blatter serves as FIFA president, having been elected originally in 1998. Blatter, the FIFA general secretary from 1991 to 1998, replaced Dr. João Havelange of Brazil in 1998, who was elected to his post in 1974 and served six terms. The current FIFA general secretary is Jérôme Valcke, who joined FIFA in 2003 as Director of Marketing & TV, before being elected to his current post in June of 2007.

Under FIFA's governance soccer has become the world's most popular sport, played by more than 150 million registered athletes — including 10 million women — and viewed by billions of fans in stadiums and on television worldwide. An estimated 715.1 million people watched the final match of the 2006 FIFA World Cup held in Germany and the 2010 event in South Africa was broadcast to 204 countries on 245 different channels. Inside the stadiums, a total of 3.170.856 spectators attended the 64 matches an average of 49,670 per match and the third highest aggregate attendance behind USA 1994 and Germany 2006.

As soccer's ultimate administrative authority, FIFA governs all facets of the game: regulating the rules of play, overseeing the transfers of players internationally, organizing international competitions such as the FIFA World Cup, establishing standards for refereeing, coaching and sports medicine, and encouraging soccer's development around the world.

Among the official world championships staged by FIFA are the World Cup, the Women's World Cup, the Under-20 World Cup, the Under-20 Women's World Cup, the Under-17 World Cup, the Under-17 Women's World Cup, the FIFA Beach Soccer World Cup and the Futsal World Cup. Additionally, FIFA oversees the men's and women's Olympic Football Tournament staged under the auspices of the International Olympic Committee every four years. FIFA has also staged the FIFA Confederations Cup, a competition between each of its confederations' champions, and the FIFA Club World Cup, which was held at the beginning of 2000 for the first time in Brazil.

CONCACAF - ON THE RISE

The Confederation of North, Central America and Caribbean Association Football (CONCACAF) was founded in 1961 and serves as the organizing body for 38 national associations, including the United States, and spans from Canada in the north to Suriname in the south. CONCACAF organizes international competition in a number of events, including the Champions League, qualifying tournaments for all FIFA competitions and the Gold Cup.

CONCACAF sent three teams to the 2010 World Cup in South Africa as the U.S., Mexico and Honduras won the three automatic berths allotted to the region, and both the U.S. and Mexico advanced to the Round of 16. In 2006, the U.S., Mexico, Costa Rica and Trinidad & Tobago represented the confederation in the FIFA World Cup in Germany. The 2002 World Cup in Korea and Japan saw the U.S. advance to the quarterfinals, while Mexico won their group in earning a second round berth and Costa Rica was eliminated in a difficult group.

In 2005. CONCACAF saw one of its men's teams win the first-ever outdoor world championship in the confederation's history as Mexico swept through the FIFA U-17 World Cup in Peru.

In 2000, Guatemala hosted the FIFA Futsal World Cup and in doing so became the first Central American country to host a FIFA world championship. And in 2001, Trinidad & Tobago hosted the spectacular Under-17 World Cup, becoming the first Caribbean country to host a world championship. A year later, the first-ever FIFA Women's Under-19 World Cup was staged in Canada in 2002 and won by the United States. After Trinidad & Tobago hosted the U-17 Women in 2010, Mexico welcomed the 2011 U-17 World Cup for men and triumphed as tournament champions.

As the Confederation's premier event, the Gold Cup is traditionally played every two years by the national teams within CONCACAF, and rotated to an odd-year, summer schedule in 2003. Mexico, six-time winner of the Gold Cup, defeated the U.S. in the 1993, 1998, 2009 and 2011 finals and downed Brazil in '96 and again in 2003. The U.S. has won four Gold Cups, the inaugural 1991 event, and again in 2002, 2005, 2007. The 2000 Gold Cup was perhaps the most surprising, with Canada taking home their first major international title as the U.S. and Mexico failed to qualify for the semifinals. In every other edition of the Gold Cup, the winner earns a berth to the FIFA Confederations Cup.

The Women's Gold Cup has also been very successful, with the U.S. winning the first three events in 2000, 2002, 2006. In 2002, it took a golden goal from Mia Hamm for the U.S. to dispatch Canada in the final, 2-1, and in 2000 the U.S. downed guest-team Brazil 1-0 to claim the championship. In the most recent edition of the tournament, the U.S. again prevailed in extra time, this time courtesy of a Kristine Lilly penalty kick in the 120th minute.

CONCACAF competed in the FIFA Club World Cup for the first time in 2000, when Mexico's Necaxa impressed with a third place finish in the 2000 tournament in Brazil. The CONACACAF club tournament, which is contested amongst the 38 nations' domestic league champions, was won by D.C. United in 1998 and 2001. In 2008, CONCACAF unveiled the Champions League to replace the Champions Cup and decide the region's annual club title. Real Salt Lake narrowly missed out on the 2011 title, losing 3-2 (agg.) to Monterrey in the two-legged final.

In 1994, CONCACAF joined Europe and South America as the only confederations to host three or more World Cup finals. Mexico welcomed the world twice, in 1970 and 1986, while the United States staged the event for the first time in 1994.

CONCACAF's headquarters are located in New York City.

US Club Soccer is a non-profit organization committed to the development and support of soccer clubs in the United States.

Currently a National Association member, US Club Soccer has been a member in good standing of the U.S. Soccer Federation since 2001. A nine-member Board of Directors, all of whom must be experienced coaches in member soccer clubs. makes policy decisions for the organization.

Among the guiding principles of US Club Soccer's 10-year vision:

- · Clubs are the vehicle through which players are developed, and US Club Soccer should aid in club development.
- · Clubs and their leadership should be the primary decision-makers in the structure and organization of soccer.
- US Club Soccer should provide leadership and a vehicle for clubs and technical leaders to work together to elevate the game and player development environment.

US Club Soccer's local and national programs have all been developed with strong input from clubs around the country and with a minimum of rules and restrictions.

U.S. SOCCER FOUNDATION

THE MAJOR CHARITABLE ARM OF SOCCER

The U.S. Soccer Foundation is a recognized leader in sports-based youth development programs for children in underserved urban communities. Since its inception in 1994, the Foundation has provided more than $55 million in funding to create and sustain innovative programs across all 50 states. Proven to deliver positive health and social outcomes, the Foundation's affordable initiatives offer safe environments for both boys and girls to thrive. Headquartered in Washington, D.C. the U.S. Soccer Foundation is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization.

The U.S. Soccer Foundation's Soccer for Success program is an innovative youth development after-school program that uses soccer as a tool to combat childhood obesity and promote healthy lifestyles for children in underserved urban communities. The Foundation partners with community-based organizations across the country to operate Soccer for Success sites - providing thousands of children, in grades K-8, with free after-school programming.

In 2011, the Corporation for National and Community Service awarded the U.S. Soccer Foundation a $2 million federal grant from the 2011 Social Innovation Fund to use Soccer for Success as a vehicle to promote healthy lifestyles and reduce obesity rates among at-risk youth in urban areas. Currently, the Soccer for Success program serves 8,000 children in eight cities nationwide and will expand to serve 12,000 children within the next year.

The U.S. Soccer Foundation provides uniforms and soccer equipment to children in underserved communities around the world through its Passback program. New and gently-used soccer gear is collected by individuals, organizations, and teams and then redistributed to groups who need it most. Since its inception, Passback has collected close to 800,000 pieces of equipment and redistributed it to schools, clubs and youth organizations in 127 countries. To learn more about this program, visit passback.org.

In addition to programming, the U.S. Soccer Foundation works to build quality soccer fields that provide children with safe and accessible places to play. The Foundation engages community partners to identify vacant or underutilized space and works with them to build fields that make a positive impact in their communities. Recognizing the lack of space available in many urban areas, the U.S. Soccer Foundation builds smaller sized fields called Mini-Pitches.

Along with helping build quality soccer fields, the U.S. Soccer Foundation has provided over $55 million in grants and financial support to grow the sport of soccer in the United States. Since the first grants were awarded in 1995, the Foundation has supported the development of over 1,100 fields and impacted over 4.9 million total youth players across all 50 states. In 2011, the U.S. Soccer Foundation awarded 63 grants totaling over $2.5 million to non-profit organizations serving youth in 30 states. The 2011 grant awards reflect the Foundation's focus on improving the health and well-being of children in underserved communities.

The Foundation is dedicated to assisting those who serve youth through soccer in urban communities. Each year the Foundation organizes the Urban Soccer Symposium, an event which brings together non-profit organizations that directly support soccer programs and projects to share funding resources, best practices and other technical expertise. The Foundation has laid the groundwork for networking and partnership opportunities among urban soccer programs nationwide.

As part of the Foundation's work in Washington, D.C., it has joined with a bipartisan group of Members of Congress to establish and support the Congressional Soccer Caucus. The mission of the Caucus is to encourage legislation, activities and events that promote the game and issues affecting the soccer community.

NATIONAL SOCCER HALL OF FAME

The National Soccer Hall of Fame came to life in 1950 when a group of former professional and amateur players from the Philadelphia "Old-timers" Association took it upon themselves to recognize the achievements of soccer in America. Sixty years after the "Old-timers" first got together, nearly 300 members have been elected to the Hall of Fame for their outstanding contributions to American soccer, both on and off the field

Members are elected in three categories - Player, Builder and Veteran (player) - and elections and inductions are carried out annually. The Class of 2012 will be voted on and announced during the first few months of 2012, with the induction coming later in the year.

Voters in the Player category include select members of the media, Hall of Famers, past and present U.S. Men's and Women's National Team coaches, MLS and WPS coaches of four or more years tenure, and a select group of soccer administrators. The Hall of Fame members vote in the Veteran category, and in the Builder category, select national soccer administrators join the Hall of Famers in voting.

With the doors to the museum in Oneonta, N.Y., closing in 2009, inductions will now be held at rotating venues throughout the country based on the U.S. soccer calendar. Soccer House in Chicago now houses the Dewar Challenge Trophy and the 1991 and 1999 FIFA Women's World Cup trophies. The archive and collection has been relocated to Hillsborough, N.C., where it is accessible for research.

The Hall of Fame also possesses an archive of more than 80,000 items, which make up one of the largest collections of soccer artifacts and records in the world. The collection includes such rare pieces as the world's oldest soccer ball (made in the USA) and both the 1991 and 1999 FIFA Women's World Cup Trophy. The collection also includes the North American Soccer League archive, the 1994 FIFA World Cup USA archive, a rare soccer photography collection from New York depression-era photographer John Albok, materials from the U.S. national teams in World Cup competition and artifacts from the American Soccer League of the 1920's and 1950's.

UNITED STATES SOCCER FEDERATION 2012 MEN'S NATIONAL TEAM MEDIA GUIDE

As the game has grown in the United States, so has the amount of soccer on television. With the amount of coverage increasing almost yearly, soccer fans in the U.S. are able to watch games – in a single weekend no less – from countries in Italy, Germany, England, Scotland, Spain, Mexico, Argentina, Brazil, Australia, Holland, and more.

SOCCER ON TELEVISION

SOCCER ON TELEVISION

Along with two cable networks dedicated to the sport (FOX Soccer and Gol TV), numerous other English and Spanish networks, including ESPN and Univision, are continuing to increase the number of games they broadcast, whether it is domestic or international matches.

The 2010 FIFA World Cup was a landmark moment in the history of soccer on television in the United States, with record-breaking viewership across both the ESPN and Univision networks. The notable viewership validated ESPN's decision to increase their attention on the world's game and put impressive amounts of resources towards the FIFA World Cup.

2018 / 2022 FIFA WORLD CUP TELEVISION RIGHTS

In October of 2011, the amazing growth of the sport was demonstrated when a bidding war over the U.S. broadcast rights for the 2018 and 2022 FIFA World Cups played out in Zurich. In the end, a record sum of more than $1 billion was paid by FOX and Telemundo, an increase of at least 147 percent over the combined $425 million that ESPN and Univisión paid for the rights to the '10 and '14 tournaments.

FOX paid a reported $450 to $500 million to beat out ESPN and NBC for the English rights, while Telemundo is said to have paid $600 million to outbid Univision for the Spanish rights.

2010 FIFA WORLD CUP TELEVISION AUDIENCE

VIEWING RECORDS BROKEN: The 2010 FIFA World Cup was watched by an estimated 111.6 million viewers for at least six minutes on English or Spanish language networks, according to The Nielsen Company. The figure is a 22 percent increase from the 91.4 million viewers during the 2006 FIFA World Cup.

Things started off with a bang when more than 17.2 million viewers tuned in for the USA's opening match on June 12 against England, including 13.1 million on ABC making it the most-watched FIFA World Cup first round match ever. Two weeks later, that was topped when the USA's thrilling match in the Round of 16 against Ghana became the most-watched U.S. MNT game in history with 19.4 million viewers following on ABC and Univision.

But both U.S. matches finished behind the 2010 FIFA World Cup Final, which garnered a record 24.7 million viewers to watch Spain defeat the Netherlands 1-0, making it the most-watched soccer match in U.S. history.

ENGLISH NETWORK (ABC/ESPN)

- The 2010 FIFA World Cup was the most-watched World Cup ever on English-language television, with an average rating (2.1) and viewers (3.27 million) up 31 and 42 percent, respectively, compared to the 2006 FIFA World Cup in Germany (1.6, 2.31 million)
- The 2010 FIFA World Cup Final average viewers was 15.88 million, up 23 percent compared to the 2006 FIFA World Cup Final also on ABC/ESPN (12.96 million)

SPANISH NETWORK (UNIVISION/TELEFUTURA)

- On Spanish-language, Univision averaged 2.57 million viewers for coverage of the 2010 FIFA World Cup, up 15 percent from 2006 (2.23), and the highest average ever for the World Cup on the network
- The 2010 FIFA World Cup Final average viewers was 8.82 million, up 49 percent compared to the 2006 FIFA World Cup Final also on Univision/Telefutura (5.9 million)

COMBINED (ENGLISH AND SPANISH)

- The combined average viewers for the 2010 FIFA World Cup were 5.68 million, up 43 percent compared to the 2006 FIFA World Cup
- The 2010 FIFA World Cup Final combined average viewers was 24.71 million, up 31 percent compared to the 2006 FIFA World Cup Final (18.86 million)

ESPN WORLD CUP COVERAGE: During the 2010 FIFA World Cup, ESPN ramped up its coverage to include more than 230 hours of live original HD programming. All 64 matches were televised live in HD on ESPN (44 matches). ESPN2 (10), and ABC (10). All 64 matches were also produced for ESPN Radio and ESPNRadio.com, as well as on mobile platforms.

In addition to airing all of the tournament games, ESPN instituted 65 hours of live studio programming from a state-of-the-art 2,000 sq. ft. set overlooking Soccer City in Johannesburg. Throughout the duration of the tournament. ESPN featured daily editions of SportsCenter, World Cup Live and World Cup Primetime news/information and highlights. Pre, post and halftime shows were also staples of the network's coverage throughout the 2010 FIFA World Cup.

ONLINE AND MOBILE COVERAGE: Online and mobile users showed tremendous growth during the 2010 FIFA World Cup. Studies found that 10 percent of ESPN users received their World Cup coverage through a medium other than TV. Internet use accounted for 61 percent of non-TV usage with 54 matches streamed live on ESPN3.com and all 64 matches available on mobile platforms. ESPN also provided users with two iPhone apps, four fantasy games and a mobile website to access content.

Deadlines: The deadline to apply for credentials to U.S. Soccer events is generally one (1) week prior to the game. There is no guarantee that late applications will be accepted.

Pickup: U.S. Soccer will distribute credential pickup times prior to each game. Credential pickup times generally coincide with media availabilities. For pickup on the day of the game, Media Will Call at the stadium will open at approximately two (2) hours before kickoff. Each media member must show identification in order to receive their credential. An individual cannot pick up more than one credential.

Credential Shipping: If you would like single-game credentials and parking passes (subject to availability) to be shipped, please provide a UPS or FedEx account number at least two (2) weeks prior to the game. Replacement parking passes cannot be provided if lost in transit.

Policies: In addition to the policies listed below, please note that only working media will be credentialed and no one under the age of 18 will be issued a credential without prior arrangements being made.

Season Credential Holders: All media provided season credentials must still inform the U.S. Soccer Communications Department of their plans to attend specific matches to ensure a space in the press box. Please do so at least one (1) week in advance of the match.

MEDIA FACILITIES

Media facilities, including the press box and photographers' work area, will open approximately two (2) hours before

Press Box: All seats will be assigned. Auxiliary seating arrangements will be made if the capacity of the press box is exceeded.

Photographer Work Room: Where available, a photographer work room will be available at field level.

Internet: Wireless internet access will be provided to media filing on deadline

Phones: To request a phone line, email communications@ussoccer.org at least two (2) weeks prior to a game. The line will be installed at the cost of the requestor. Pool phones may be provided at some venues, but are not

Game Notes & Media Guides: Game notes and media guides will be placed at each seat and also on a table near the press box entrance.

Lineups: Official lineups are submitted approximately one (1) hour prior to kickoff. Lineups, which will include iersev numbers for each team, will be distributed to the media as quickly as possible.

MEDIA ACCESS / INTERVIEWS

There is no pre-game access to U.S. Soccer players and coaches on game days. No "flash" interviews are permitted on the field. All post-game access is in the press conference and mixed zone.

Press Conference: For Men's National Team games, there will be a formal press conference with head coach Jurgen Klinsmann and one player shortly after the final whistle. There will typically not be a press conference following Women's National Team games, as head coach Pia Sundhage will be available to reporters in an on-field mixed zone.

Mixed Zone: Locker rooms are not open to the media at U.S. Soccer events. All post-game interviews will be conducted in a press conference or mixed zone. Players from both teams will typically be available in the mixed zone. For Men's National Team events, the mixed zone will be near the locker rooms. For Women's National Team events, the mixed zone will be on the field.

PRINT & ONLINE MEDIA

Live Blogging / Commentary: Live blogging of U.S. Soccer events from either the venue or via the television broadcast is subject to our Live Blogging Guidelines. The guidelines are included in Appendix II of this document.

Video: Please notify U.S. Soccer in advance if your coverage includes video recording. Any video footage, including interviews, gathered by print and online media is subject to the U.S. Soccer Video Guidelines. The Video Guidelines are included in Appendix I of this document.

Audio: Please notify U.S. Soccer in advance if your coverage includes audio recording. Any audio, including interviews, gathered by radio, print and online media is subject to the U.S. Soccer Audio Use Guidelines. The guidelines are included in Appendix III of this document.

FIELD ACCESS

Print, online and radio writers and reporters are not permitted on the field at anytime. Media members granted field access must have a working purpose. Representatives from the broadcast media who are not filing reports. but would like to attend as an observer, should inform U.S. Soccer of such when making the application.

STILL PHOTOGRAPHERS

Locations: Still photographers are permitted to shoot U.S. Soccer events from behind the field sign boards in either end zone. At events where space allows, photographers may also shoot on the sideline opposite the benches between the end line and the 18-yard line. The attacking direction of the teams is determined by a coin toss. Following the coin toss, photographers must pick one end of the field to shoot for the entire half. The ONLY time photographers may change ends is at halftime. At no time are photographers allowed on the field of play.

Bibs: All photographers are required to wear an orange bib as provided by U.S. Soccer. The bib is lightweight and designed to be worn outside of outerwear and be visible at all times. Please return the bibs to a photo marshal following the game, or leave them in the press box / photographers' work room.

Pre-Game Photos: Each team's starters will pose for a pre-game photo near the bench area following the national anthems. Photographers should gather in the near-side corners once the teams leave the field after warm-ups. U.S. Soccer will escort the photographers to midfield.

Field Watering: The grounds crew may water the field prior to warm ups and also 10 minutes prior to kickoff. Please be responsible for your equipment during this time.

NON-RIGHTS HOLDER VIDEO (ENG)

Video Footage: All non-rights holders and ENG crews must follow the U.S. Soccer Video Guidelines for all footage gathered at events. The Video Guidelines are included in Appendix I of this document.

TV Reporters: ENG reporters may stay on the field until 30 minutes prior to kickoff to shoot 'scene sets,' and are not allowed on the field again until after the conclusion of the game. Reporters/anchors will not be issued a bib.

Location: ENG cameras are permitted to shoot U.S. Soccer events from behind the field sign boards in either end zone. The attacking direction of the teams is determined by a coin toss. Following the coin toss, ENG cameras must pick one end of the field to shoot for the entire half. The ONLY time ENG crews may change ends is at halftime. At no time are any media members allowed on the field of play.

Bibs: All ENG camera operators and ENG producers are required to wear an orange bib as provided by U.S. Soccer. The bib is lightweight and designed to be worn outside of outerwear and be visible at all times. Please return the bibs to a photo marshal following the game, or leave them in the press box / photographers' work room.

Field Watering: The grounds crew may water the field prior to warm-ups and also 10 minutes prior to kickoff. Please be responsible for your equipment during this time. U.S. Soccer is not responsible for damage to any equipment.

Live Newscasts: Please contact U.S. Soccer in advance of the event if you would like to broadcast live pre or postgame as part of a newscast from the stadium.

APPENDIX I: NON-RIGHTS HOLDER VIDEO GUIDELINES

TELEVISION BROADCASTERS

Game Action: Television broadcasters can use footage of U.S. Soccer events obtained either via 1) their own recording or 2) action dubbed from a U.S. Soccer rights holder broadcast with credit only in connection with its regularly scheduled news programming within a week of the game. This footage should not exceed two (2) minutes. Highlights aired as part of a continuous news program should not be longer than one (1) minute per 30-minute segment.

Filming - Game Action: For televised events, non-rights holders / ENG cameras may record the first 15 minutes of each half (from 00:00 to 15:00 and 45:00 to 60:00 on the game clock). For non-televised events, non-rights holders / ENG cameras may record the entire game but are still subject to the aforementioned limits.

Filming - Interviews and Scene Sets: There is no limit to the gathering of footage pre-game, at halftime and postgame. All footage gathered is subject to the usage guidelines indicated in this document.

Previews or Advances: In advance of a U.S. Soccer event, television broadcasters can use two (2) minutes of archival game action to preview an upcoming event. In the local/regional markets, broadcasters should mention the time and location of the game along with their report. Outside of the local markets, broadcasters should mention the time and broadcast information
